

Preview - Self-Evaluation Grading Rubric

This grading rubric compliments the self-evaluation assignment.

Objective/Criteria	Performance Indicators
	Effectively Accomplishes (A)	Meets Most Requirements (B)	Meets Some Requirements (C)	Unsatisfactory (D)	Not Accomplished (F)
Content	(50 points) Minor typos, smooth flow. Answers all questions thoroughly with examples; clearly written, good vocabulary, error free; creative essay flow, a pleasure to read; APA style evident (page number, cover sheet).	(44 points) Areas begin to be covered less thoroughly; somewhat fewer or less clear examples; writing flow hindered; typos; page numbers there, but no title page. Areas covered less thoroughly covered. Examples diminishing; writing very clear but begins to lack creativity and flash. Still less thorough coverage of questions; writing becomes noticeably more awkward while retaining clarity; typos/spelling errors.	(39 points) Typos/spelling errors increase; examples less prevalent; very simplistic writing style and word choices; maintains essay format (intro, preview, conclusion). Average execution of writing; simplistic style; minimal examples, errors increase without impeding meaning; has hasty feel. Paper is short of page minimum; errors impede meaning; awkward sentence construction increases; inadequate examples; questions skimmed; one or two minor questions may be missing; essay form deteriorates	(35 points) Numerous errors indicative of serious grammar problems for which student needs help; more than two questions omitted; still fewer examples; essay form barely recognizable; meaning is unclear. Still more grammatical errors; no proofreading apparent; more questions gone; almost no examples; essay form absent; meaning is obscure.	(0 points) Student did not complete the assignment or did not read assignment to complete properly.

Objective/Criteria	Performance Indicators
	Effectively Accomplishes (A)	Meets Most Requirements (B)	Meets Some Requirements (C)	Unsatisfactory (D)	Not Accomplished (F)
			noticeably; looks nothing like APA style.
					out of 50