I'm faxing over to you some data that has been gathered regarding our sales of Nissan Z's versus age of the car. Display the data with what you think is the best graphic representation and let me know any patterns that appear. From this, give me a prediction of the price in 2010. I'll expect a full report by Monday.

I look forward to hearing from you.

Prices are going down.

Y = $25,000

I used the graph.
